Executive Summary

Mr. Speaker Sir,

The Constitutional Implementation Oversight Committee (CIOC) is a Select Committee of the National Assembly of Kenya mandated with among other things to overseeing the implementation of the Constitution and in particular the preparation of the legislation required pursuant to Article 261(1) and the Fifth Schedule to the Constitution of Kenya, 2010; receiving regular reports on the implementation of the Constitution and any challenges in that regard; the preparation of the legislation required by the Constitution and any challenges in that regard; the process of establishing the new commissions; the process of establishing the infrastructure necessary for the proper operation of each county including progress on locating offices and assemblies and establishment and transfers of staff; and reports on the devolution of powers and functions to the counties under the legislation contemplated in section 15 of the sixth Schedule to the Constitution. The Committee also considers report on any impediments to the process of implementing the Constitution and thereby taking appropriate action on such impediments.

Mr. Speaker Sir, as Members would note, the implementation of the Constitution is still ongoing. Further, as you are aware, the Committee is alive to the fact that the term of Transition Authority is coming to an end on 4th March, 2016. Members would note that the Authority is established under section 4 of the Transition to Devolved Government Act and its functions are set our under section 7 of the Act.

Mr. Speaker Sir, a critical question that arises from a reading of section 37 is - Can the life of the Authority be extended beyond March 05, 2016? This Mr. Speaker Sir, forms the basis of this Report. In its attempt to address this question, the Committee has met with the Transition Authority, the Cabinet Secretary for Devolution and Planning and the Inter-Governmental Relations Committee who all appeared before the Committee and gave their opinion on whether an extension is permissible or not permissible in light of the provisions of Law. The Committee also did an analysis of the provisions of the Constitution, the Transition to Devolved Government Act and the Intergovernmental Relations Act with a view of determining whether or not the law permits the extension of the life of the Authority.

The Committee examined the provisions of section 15(1) of the Sixth Schedule to the Constitution as read with section 7 of the Act. Section 15(1) of the Sixth Schedule clearly indicates that the phased transfer of functions should be over a period of not more than three years from the date of the first election of county assemblies, from the national government to county governments of the functions assigned to them under Article 185. The principal role of the Authority under section 7(1) of the Act is to facilitate and co-ordinate the transition to the devolved system of government. Section 7(2) of the Act also outlines the functions of the Authority that are related to the phased transfer of the functions.

In this regard therefore, the life of the Authority as regards its key role of facilitating and coordinating the transition to the devolved system of government cannot be extended beyond the period set by section 15(1) of the Sixth Schedule to the Constitution which ends in March, 2016. In view of the foregoing, the Committee observed that sections 7 and 37 as read with section 15(1) of the Sixth Schedule to the Constitution illustrates that the term of the Authority cannot be extended beyond three years from the date of the first election of county assemblies without amending the Constitution.

Mr. Speaker, it is however important to note that upon the dissolution of the Transition Authority, there will exist no lacuna. Indeed, section 12(b) of the Intergovernmental Relations Act provides that the Intergovernmental Relations Technical Committee (IGRTC) shall take over the residual functions of the transition entity established under the law relating to transition to devolved government after dissolution of such entity. In this regard therefore, once the Authority is dissolved the Intergovernmental Relations Technical Committee shall take over its residual functions. It is therefore the view of CIOC that the term of TA should not be extended and its residual functions should be taken up by the Intergovernmental Relations Technical Committee upon expiry of its term.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, On behalf of the Committee, It is therefore my pleasant duty and privilege, on behalf of the Committee, to present this Report to the House for consideration and approval.

1.3 Problem Statement

The Committee is concerned that the term of Transition Authority is coming to an end on 4th March, 2016 and without any stringent measures put in place to carry out the core functions of TA, the gains made in realizing devolution may be lost. Consequently, a critical incidental question that arises is whether the law allows for the extension of the life of the Transition Authority.

1.4 Objectives of the Report

The Committee did set out the following objectives of the Report:

a. To assess the need for the extension of the term of the Transition Authority.

b. To make recommendations to the House on the appropriate measures to be taken with regard to the management of devolution after the exit of the Transition Authority.

1.5 Justification

In view of the foregoing, there is therefore need to determine whether or not the term of TA should be extended. Although there has been great progress made towards providing a legal and institutional framework for a co-ordinated transition to the devolved system of government; providing for policy and operational mechanisms for the transfer of functions from the national and county levels of governments; the Committee is of the view that the management of the transfer of assets and liabilities; human resources; pensions and other staff benefits of employees of the government and local authorities have not been implemented in full. The issue of capacity is also still wanting. The adoption of the Report is also justified by the fact that an exit of TA without the implementation of majority of the core functions, the numerous achievements realized through the new constitutional order would be lost.

1.6 Extending the Term of Transition Authority- Does the Law Permit?

The Committee was guided by the provisions of the Constitution, the Transition to Devolved Government Act and the Intergovernmental Relations Act with a view of determining whether or not the law permits the extension of the life of the Authority.

The Authority is established under section 4 of the Act and is mandated under section 7 of the Act to-

Functions of the Authority

(1) The Authority shall facilitate and co-ordinate the transition to the devolved system of government as provided under section 15 of the Sixth Schedule to the Constitution.

(2) Despite the generality of subsection (1), the Authority shall—

(a) facilitate the analysis and the phased transfer of the functions provided under the Fourth Schedule to the Constitution to the national and county governments;

(b) determine the resource requirements for each of the functions;

(c)develop a framework for the comprehensive and effective transfer of functions as provided for under section 15 of the Sixth Schedule to the Constitution;

(d) co-ordinate with the relevant State organ or public entity in order to-

(i)facilitate the development of the budget for county governments during Phase One of the transition period;

(ii)establish the status of ongoing reform processes, development programmes and projects and make recommendations on the management, reallocation or transfer to either level of government during the transition period; and

(iii)ensure the successful transition to the devolved system of government;

(e)prepare and validate an inventory of all the existing assets and liabilities of government, other public entities and local authorities;

(f)make recommendations for the effective management of assets of the national and county governments;

(g)provide mechanisms for the transfer of assets which may include vetting the transfer of assets during the transitional period;

(h)pursuant to section 15(2)(b) of the Sixth Schedule to the Constitution, develop the criteria as may be necessary to determine the transfer of functions from the national to county governments, including—

(i)such criteria as may be necessary to guide the transfer of functions to county governments; and

(ii) the criteria to determine the transfer of previously shared assets, liabilities and staff of the government and local authorities;

(i)carry out an audit of the existing human resource of the Government and local authorities;

(j)assess the capacity needs of national and county governments;

Constitutional Implementation Oversight Committee

(k)recommend the necessary measures required to ensure that the national and county governments have adequate capacity during the transition period to enable them undertake their assigned functions;

(l)co-ordinate and facilitate the provision of support and assistance to national and county governments in building their capacity to govern and provide services effectively;

(m)advise on the effective and efficient rationalization and deployment of the human resource to either level of government;

(n)submit monthly reports to the Commission for the Implementation of the Constitution and the Commission on Revenue Allocation on the progress in the implementation of the transition to the devolved system of government;

(o)perform any other function as may be assigned by national legislation.

(3)The Authority shall, while undertaking its functions as specified under subsection (2), carry out the activities specified in respect of Phase One and Phase Two in the Fourth Schedule to this Act.

Section 15(1) of the Sixth Schedule to the Constitution provides as follows-

(1) Parliament shall, by legislation, make provision for the phased transfer, over a period of not more than three years from the date of the first election of county assemblies, from the national government to county governments of the functions assigned to them under Article 185.

Further, section 37(1) of the Act provides that "the Authority shall stand dissolved three years after the first general elections under the Constitution or upon the full transition to county governments, whichever is the earlier".

Analysis of the Law

A close reading of section 37 of the Act indeed reveals that the life of the Authority ends three years after the first general elections under the Constitution or upon the full transition to county governments, whichever is the earlier in this case the earlier being three years after the general elections which is March, 2016. A question that arises from a reading of section 37 is therefore can the life of the Authority be extended beyond March, 2016 in this case by way of amending the Act to provide for an extension of the life of the Authority? An attempt to answer this question requires one to examine section 15(1) of the Sixth Schedule to the Constitution as read with section 7 of the Act. Section 15(1) of the Sixth Schedule clearly indicates that the phased transfer of functions should be over a period of not more than three years from the date of the first election of county assemblies, from the national government to county governments of the functions assigned to them under Article 185. The principal role of the Authority under section 7(1) of the Act is to facilitate and co-ordinate the transition to the devolved system of government. Section 7(2) of the Act also outlines the functions of the Authority that are related to the phased transfer of the functions. In this regard therefore, the life of the Authority as regards its key role of facilitating and co-ordinating the transition to the devolved system of government cannot be extended beyond the period set by section 15(1) of the Sixth Schedule to the Constitution which ends in March, 2016.

View of the Committee

In view of the above, we observe that sections 7 and 37 as read with section 15(1) of the Sixth Schedule to the Constitution illustrates that the term of the Authority cannot be extended beyond three years from the date of the first election of county assemblies. It is however important to note that upon the dissolution of the Authority, there will exist no lacuna. Indeed, section 12(b) of the Intergovernmental Relations Act Cap. 5G provides that the Intergovernmental Relations Technical Committee shall take over the residual functions of the transition entity established under the law relating to transition to devolved government after dissolution of such entity. In this regard therefore, once the Authority is dissolved the Intergovernmental Relations Technical Committee shall take over its residual functions.

The Committee also heard that, despite the success achieved in implementing devolution, a number of challenges have been encountered that have hindered the full implementation of said process of devolution namely:-.

- (a) Inadequate funding to achieve the TA mandate. TA vote was removed and placed under Ministry of Devolution and Planning contrary to section 28(2)(3) of TDGA;
- (b) Unavailability and slow response from Ministries to provide requisite data for TA to undertake its functions especially information on assets, liabilities and devolved functions;
- (c) Duplication and overlapping mandates between TA and Ministry of Devolution and Planning;
- (d) Political interference especially during the clamour for transfer of functions;
- (e) Inadequate capacity: Due to limited resources, TA was only able to bring on board technical officers in June 2013, almost a year after the Authority was established;

- (f) The 'Big Bang approach to devolution' and the time allocated for transiting power, functions and resources remained a big challenge to the Authority;
- (g) Absence of sectoral norms and standards affected analysis and costing of functions.
- (h) Delay by Parliament to enact some laws to facilitate transition activities, e.g. county pension law, amendment to Urban Areas and Cities Act 2011and review of existing laws to align them with the constitution; and,

1.8 Consultative Forum with the Chairperson of various Select Committee of the National Assembly with Transition Authority

The Transition Authority hosted a consultative Forum with of various Select Committees of the National Assembly from 11th to 14th February, 2016, at Sarova, Whitesands Resort, Mombasa. The objective of the forum was to:

- (a) update the National Assembly on the status of transition to devolved system of government in Kenya.
- (b) discuss the TA's mandate, program implementation, challenges and opportunities.
- (c) examine the expected accomplishments, status, pending activities, risks, time frame for completion of pending activities under TA and the emerging issues from the transition process and recommend a way-forward.

Participants were drawn from the National Assembly Committees and the Secretariat, as well as from the Transition Authority the Members and Staff. The Consultative Forum was attended by the Parliamentary Leadership, Parliamentary Committees Chairs, Vice Chairs and Committee Members and the leadership, management and staff of the Transition Authority. The forum was officially opened by the Hon. (Dr.) Naomi Shaaban, EGH, MP, the Deputy Majority Leader, National Assembly.

The Authority informed the forum that the Transition Authority (TA) is established under Section 4 of the Transition to Devolved Government Act (TDGA), 2012 pursuant to Section 15 of the Sixth Schedule to the Constitution with the core statutory mandate of facilitating and coordinating the transition to devolved system of government. Section 7 of TDGA, 2012 outlines the specific functions of the TA.

The forum also heard that the TDGA Act lapses on March 4, 2016 marking the end of the life of Transition Authority and all protections prohibiting the disposal of assets and the maintenance of former local authority staff. While great progress has been made, some key functions remain incomplete as a result of the massive effort required to complete all mandates, lack of adequate funding and political conflicts at all levels. While many challenges existed along the way, the TA has completed significant components of their constitutional mandate. The pending functions create risks that have implications for the future of devolution.

1.8.1 Challenges Facing Devolution:

The forum heard that, the following are some of the challenges facing devolution:

- a) Failure by parliament to enact devolution laws;
- b) Inadequate capacity e.g., in formulation of county policies and laws;
- c) Intergovernmental/Intra-governmental relations e.g. delays in release of county; funds by the National Treasury, supremacy wars between the County Executive and County Assembly;
- d) Human Resource Management issues e.g., patronage in the recruitment of County staff;
- e) Inadequate Civic Education;
- f) Corruption; and,
- g) Political interference.

1.8.2 Challenges Faced by TA in Execution of Its Mandate:

The TA informed the Forum that they were facing the following challenges:-

(a) Inadequate funding to achieve the TA mandate. TA vote was removed and placed under Ministry of Devolution and Planning contrary to section 28(2)(3) of TDGA;

- (b) Unavailability and slow response from Ministries to provide requisite data for TA to undertake its functions especially information on assets, liabilities and devolved functions;
- (c) Duplication and overlapping mandates between TA and Ministry of Devolution and Planning;
- (d) Political interference especially during the clamour for transfer of functions;
- (e) Inadequate capacity: Due to limited resources, TA was only able to bring on board technical officers in June 2013, almost a year after the Authority was established;
- (f) The 'Big Bang approach to devolution' and the time allocated for transiting power, function and resources remained a big challenge to the Authority;
- (g) Absence of sectoral norms and standards affected analysis and costing of functions;
- (h) Delay by Parliament to enact some laws to facilitate transition activities, e.g., county pension law, an amendment to Urban Areas and Cities Act 2011 and review of existing laws to align them with the constitution; and,
- (i) Numerous litigation and judicial proceedings.

1.8.3 Implementation Status of the Activities Of TA

The forum was taken through the following expected accomplishments, and pending activities to be completed within the time frame indicated:

1.9 Meeting of the CIOC with the Cabinet Secretary for Devolution and Planning.

The Committee met with the Cabinet Secretary for Devolution and Planning on Tuesday, 16th February, 2016, to discuss the expiry of the term of the Authority. The Cabinet Secretary for Devolution and Planning, Hon. Mwangi Kiunjuri accompanied by technical Officers and the Chairman of the Inter-Governmental Relations Technical Committee (IGRTC) took the Committee through the following functional areas of the TA:-

a) Auditing of Public Assets and Liabilities of the Defunct Local Authorities

The Cabinet Secretary informed the meeting that TA had compiled a comprehensive list of assets and liabilities and what was remaining was the verification, validation and transfer which could be carried out by the Office of Auditor-General and other relevant state agencies.

b) Analysis and Transfer of Pending Functions as per the Fourth Schedule to the Constitution

The Cabinet Secretary informed the meeting that during the National and County Government Coordinating Summit meeting held on 10th and 11th February, 2016 at Sagana State Lodge, TA confirmed to the Summit that it had transferred all the functions and none were pending. The remaining functions had been transferred under the Special Gazette of 22nd January, 2016.

c) Establishment of the County Pension Scheme to safeguard staff benefits and facilitate transfer of service

The Cabinet Secretary informed the meeting that the Draft County Pension Scheme Bill was being reviewed by the major stakeholders and that the Inter-Governmental Relations Technical Committee would follow up on the issue.

d) Assessment and Classification of Urban Areas and Cities

The Cabinet Secretary also informed the meeting that amendments to the Urban Areas and Cities Act, 2011 and Regulations under the Act had been drafted and were before Parliament.

e) Rationalization and Deployment of Staff

He informed the meeting that the matter was comprehensively under the Capacity Assessment and Rationalization of the Public Service CARPS Programme and that TA had given their input on the Report of CARPS which was later adopted by Summit in February, 2016

f) Implementation of the Civic Education Curriculum on Devolution

The Cabinet Secretary also informed the meeting that they hold the view that, civic education is a continuous activity and not a transition issue.

g) Facilitation of Closure of Public Records and Information

The Cabinet Secretary also informed the meeting that personnel records kept by the National Government had been successfully transferred to the County Governments and in any case this was the mandate of Government Ministries supervised by Ministry of Public Service Public Service Commission and the Technical Committee.

h) Capacity Building for National and County Governments

The Cabinet Secretary was of the view that, capacity building is a function of the National Government and not the County Governments.

i) Establishment of the Status of Ongoing Reform Processes, Projects and Programmes

The cabinet Secretary noted that, this is not a function of the Transition Authority.

In view of the foregoing, the Cabinet Secretary made following recommendations to the Committee:

- The Inter-Governmental Relations Technical Committee and the Transition Authority agreed to work together to ensure a seamless handover to the Technical Committee in a meeting held on 13th January, 2016;
- Seven (7) out of the sixteen (16) members of TA are Principal Secretaries and as such, the expertise and institutional memory of the TA will be retained by the National Government hence ensuring continuity.
- 3. Most of the technical staff of the TA were on secondment from the National Government and would be available if required by the Technical Committee.

4. An "Independent Audit Committee" should be set up to objectively assess and evaluate the work of the TA with a view of ascertaining the magnitude of the pending work and the time frame it would require to finalize it.

On the legality of extending the term of the Transition Authority, the Cabinet Secretary submitted that the advisory opinion of CIC had opined that a Bill purporting to extend the term of the Authority would be unconstitutional.

The Committee inquired from the Cabinet Secretary on whether or not the term of the TA should be extended but the Cabinet Secretary submitted that the question of determining whether or not to extend the term of TA is in the purview of both the Senate and the National Assembly. However, on being asked about the issue of the constitutional Bill in the Senate seeking to amend section 15(1) of the Sixth Schedule, the Cabinet Secretary noted that the Ministry was not aware of the existence of such a Bill.

1.10 Meeting with the Chairperson, Inter-Governmental Relations Technical Committee

The Committee enquired from the Chairperson of the Intergovernmental Relations Technical Committee whether IGRTC had the capacity to carry on with the pending work of TA and if it was ready. The Chairperson of the IGRTC informed the meeting as follows:-

- a) Section 15(1) of the Sixth Schedule to the Constitution does not allow for extension beyond three years;
- b) The framers of the Constitution did not envisage the TA serving beyond three years and as such Parliament should not extend the three years;
- c) The Technical Committee is well enabled to take up the functions of the TA once it is dissolved as it has technical and qualified persons to take up the functions;
- d) The Technical Committee is also independent as the members of the Committee are competitively recruited and appointed by the Summit and unlike the TA which has seven Principal Secretaries, the Committee has only one Principal Secretary as a member. As such it is autonomous and independent.
- e) The question of determining whether or not to extend the term of TA is in the purview of both the Senate and the National Assembly.

Recommendation of the Committee:

Having heard he submissions of the Cabinet Secretary for Devolution and Planning, and from the Chairberson of the Inter-Governmental Relations Technical Committee, the Committee resolved to meet on 18/2/2016 for an in-house meeting for determining the issue of the expiry of the Transizion Authority.

The Committee also agreed that there was no need to invite the views of the Attorney General as the submission by the Cabinet Secretary was succinct.

1.7 Findings of the Committee.

The remaining functions had been transferred under the Special Gazette of 22nd January, 2016.

3. Establishment of the County Pension Scheme to safeguard staff benefits and facilitate transfer of service

The Cabinet Secretary informed the meeting that the Draft County Pension Scheme Bill was being review ed by the major stakeholders and that the Inter-Governmental Relations Technical Committee v ould follow up on the issue.

The cabinet Secretary noted that, this is not a function of the Transition Authority.

In view of the foregoing, the Cabinet Secretary made following recommendations to the Committee:

- St ven (7) out of the sixteen (16) members of TA are Principal Secretaries and as such, the expertise and institutional memory of the TA will be retained by the N-tional Government hence ensuring continuity.
- 3. Most of the technical staff of the TA were on secondment from the National Government and would be available if required by the Technical Committee.
- 4. At "Independent Audit Committee" should be set up to objectively assess and evaluate the work of the TA with a view of ascertaining the magnitude of the pending work and the time frame it would require to finalize it.

The Committie inquired from the Cabinet Secretary on whether or not the term of the TA should be extended but the Cabinet Secretary submitted that the question of determining whether or not to extend the term of TA is in the purview of both the Senate and the National Assembly. However, or being asked about the issue of the constitutional Bill in the Senate seeking to amend section 15(1) of the Sixth Schedule, the Cabinet Secretary noted that the Ministry was not aware of the existence of such a Bill.

- Section 15(1) of the Sixth Schedule to the Constitution does not allow for extension by yourd three years;
- 2. Fromers of the Constitution did not envisage the Transition Authority serving beyond the event as such Parliament should not extend beyond the three years;
- 3. The Technical Committee is well enabled to take up the functions of the TA once it is dissolved as it has technical and qualified persons to take up the functions;
